Public YES All documents linked to this cover note can be made public.

Context / Reason
During the past University Council elections, the Central Elections Office received several reports of (possible) violations of the Code of Conduct. As a result of these reports, the Central Elections Office found that the Code of Conduct is not entirely clear to candidates. In addition, it was found that the code of conduct is outdated (last update took place in 2019). For these reasons, the Code of Conduct was completely revised by the Central Elections Office with the attached (Appendix 3) regulations as the outcome. The changes are aimed at clarifying terms and specifying the original provisions.

Jurisdiction UC / Question to the UC
Right of advice, under article 9.33a 1 under a WHW.

Short Summary
The UC is requested to discuss the new Code of Conduct for Elections Erasmus University Rotterdam 2023 and give any additional remarks or suggestions for improvement.

Follow-up process
After the Code of conduct has been considered for advice in the University Council, the regulations are officially adopted and will be published, since the Executive Board in the meeting of November 7 th already conditionally has decided regarding the regulations.
